

KICKSTART YOUR BIZ

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- In this lesson we are going to talk about how to launch your coaching business and build momentum with signing clients
- Your first few months of building your business will be the hardest, as it will be like rolling a boulder uphill

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- It will only become easier once you roll the boulder over the peak of the hill and begin catching momentum as it rolls down
- In the case of your coaching business, the uphill battle is getting your first few clients and building momentum

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- Building your business then becomes easier once you are able to build a network, receive referrals, and have clients start coming to you
- But how do we build momentum and make it to have clients come to you?
- The answer is by giving more than you get.

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- There's good news and bad news
- The bad news is the online fitness space is more saturated than ever, making it harder to compete and stand out online
- The good news is that it's saturated with bad coaches so if you're a great coach it's easy to establish your spot in the marketplace

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- However, when you're first getting started you need to focus on getting your foot in the marketplace
- Competitively you are at a disadvantage, so we must lean on the three biggest assets you have:
- Price, Time, and Results

PRICE, TIME, & RESULTS

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- When I first launched my online fitness coaching business my very first goal was to sign 30 clients at $100 per month
- All I wanted to make was $3,000 per month (which at the time was barely enough to support myself financially)
- But the truth was, I didn't care about the money

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- What I cared about was working with clients
- I knew that just starting out, the only competitive advantage I had was my ability to give my clients everything I had, deliver the best results in the industry, and do it for a price that was a no brainer

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- I knew that working with 30 clients would build my business faster than charging high prices would
- All I cared about was client results, transformations, and actually getting the experience of coaching
- I wanted to be a coach, so I coached for as little as possible until I couldn't anymore

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- Within 6 months I was able to build a roster of 45 clients at $100/mo
- Now I wasn't making a ton of money, and I was working my ass off for these clients but something amazing happened in this process
- Because I was over delivering on value (almost coaching for free) my confidence was through the roof

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- I didn't have any fear posting content, making CTAs, reaching out to potential prospects, or getting on sales calls because I knew I was literally giving them gold
- What did I have to lose? They're getting a life changing deal, they'd be missing out if they said no
- I was fearless in my presence

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- Because I was delivering great results and an extremely affordable rate my clients referred their friends and family to me
- Most of my clients came through referrals since the deal they were getting was so good
- As my roster grew, I become more confident in my ability to sell, transform lives, and promote my offer

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- I didnt care about the money at first because I was fulfilled actually coaching clients
- With more clients I also had more testimonials and transformations
- I was able to post daily wins of my clients who were getting results which only added more fuel to the burning fire

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- I eventually got to a point where I literally could not take on any more clients and realized that I had to raise my prices
- Demand finally exceeded supply
- At this point I doubled my price from $100 to $200/mo and no one batted an eye

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- I had so much authority by this point that even new prospects saw my value as that much
- I repeated this again 6 months later from $200 to $300/mo and again nothing changed
- I built so much momentum by focusing first on helping people that I was able to build a roster, increase demand, raise my prices, and win

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- The reason why I did this was because it was the only advantage I had
- I didnt have a following, I didnt have experience, I didnt have momentum, but I knew if I can offer more of my time, deliver better results, at a no brainer price compared to the marketplace I could kickstart my business

- Price, time, and results are the only competitive advantage you have when starting from scratch
- Give your clients and program as much of your time as possible (be on the phone with them until 12am if you have to)
- Deliver the best results you can (give your clients as much coaching, guidance, and motivation they need to get results)

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- And do it at a price that would be stupid for them to say no
- Even if its free
- Would you be afraid to offer a stranger to get on a call and sell them your program if you knew you were delivering that much value for FREE?
- You would be FEARLESS
- You would be reaching out to everyone!

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- In doing so, your confidence in outreach will increase because what do you have to lose?
- Your confidence in getting on a sales call will increase because you know you're giving so much value that if they say no you cant take it personally

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- And lastly, you'll build confidence in your ability to onboard, coach, and transform clients which will help you show up better in your content / marketing
- This is the absolute best way to build momentum and get started

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- Now if youre in a position where money is tight and you need the money from signing clients I would recommend stabalizing your income so you can focus building this without the pressure of NEEDING the money
- Youll make more money in 6-12 months following this process than you will if you never build momentum and quit

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- The beautiful part too is you won't need 6-12 months, you could build momentum quickly and start charging quickly as your confidence grows
- A great reminder I always instilled in myself was “do you want to make a few hundred bucks off one client, or do you want to coach and build a real business”

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- In summary, I knew that in a saturated market I could get my foot in the industry by being competitive
- If I delivered good results, outworked my competition, and a price that was impossible to say no I could capture market share and build my roster

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- In the beginning I didnt care about making money, I cared about coaching clients
- By focusing on signing clients first and building my book of business, money followed
- Serve first and overdeliver to the market, receive later

GETTING STARTED

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- What I would do first is determine how many spots on your roster you can currently fill with your time commitments
- If you are a student, mom, have a 9-5 etc. you will have different time constraints than those who have more free time

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- Decide now how many clients you could realistically take on with your current schedule (10, 15, 20, or even 30 clients).
- Now your goal is to fill as many of those spots as possible for as little as possible to build momentum

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- I spoke to a student once who had recently gone fulltime in his business
- He told me he was having a hard time finding clients and building momentum to get his income to where he wanted to be

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- I asked him how many clients he could realistically take and he said 30
- Then I asked how many clients he had currently and he said 15
- So I said, you're full-time but your business is only 50% full, what're you doing with that extra time?
- He said...nothing

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- I told him his first priority needs to be to fill his roster at whatever cost
- Even if it means taking some clients on for free or cheaper rates
- Its more valuable to be working with clients and actually doing the work than it is to do nothing

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- With this advice he signed 5 clients over the next 3 days because his barrier to outreach and sales vanished
- I told him once his roster is full at 25-30 clients and his business has momentum he can raise his prices
- At first you need to get your foot in the door of the marketplace

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- There was another student who kept getting young applications from people who were 16, 17, and 18 years old
- Instead of dismissing those applications he got on the phone with them as signed them for free
- Now this student already had 10 paying ideal clients so we asked him what his thought process was

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- He said “I signed the young clients who I knew didnt have money because...
- 1) I knew they can get good results and transformations that I could use to market
- 2) I will get more experience coaching new types of clients
- 3) I have the time”

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- That's the type of student that will build a successful business long term
- The one who understands that coaching clients and getting results will lead to income in the future once goodwill in the marketplace is established

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- Make sure to take this lesson with a grain of salt as well
- If you have a ton of experience as a coach, are confident in sales, confident in your ability to outreach, and have no problem building momentum you can go straight to charging your fullrate

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- But if this is all brand new to you, it would be better to use this approach to build momentum
- Think about a tattoo apprentice learning how to tattoo
- They're not going to charge hundreds of dollars for their first tattoo, and clients won't want to pay that much for an inexperienced tattoo artist

KICKSTART YOUR BUSINESS

- Value overloading your plate with experience and building confidence in the process
- Eliminate fear of approach by knowing you have more to give than you have to lose
- Kickstart your business by DOING the work and allowing it to build momentum
