

SCALABLE ONLINE BUSINESS MODEL

Scalable Online Business Model

- There are many ways to coach online, but there are only a few that are done in a way that's scalable beyond 10k/mo
- What we are going to cover in this lesson is the scalable online business model so that your business is set up for success day 1

Scalable Online Business Model

- In order for a business to be scalable, the value of your offer needs to be tied to the value and not your time
- If you are trading your time for money, you do not have a scalable offer
- Take 1-1 virtual zoom sessions, even though its online its not scalable

Scalable Online Business Model

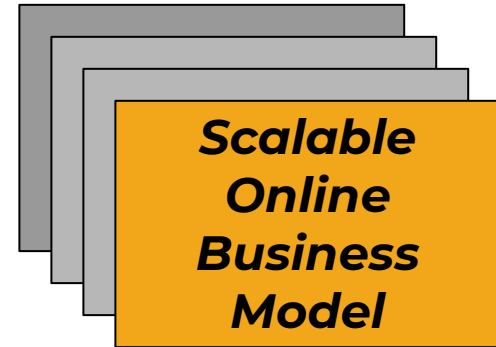

- In order for you to make money, you have to trade your time
- With that model you have a cap on how much income you can earn in your business. Its directly correlated to how many hours you have in a day
- And if you can only train 8 hours a day tops, that's going to be your cap (and you'll be exhausted)

Scalable Online Business Model

- What you want instead is a business model that provides value by delivering results, not trading time
- After working with hundreds of fitness coaches and consulting top industry leaders, we've been able to build a highly scalable online business model

Scalable Online Business Model

- There are 5 key pillars when it comes to the scalable online business model
- Training
- Nutrition
- Coaching
- Education
- Community

Scalable Online Business Model

- These are the pillars of the fulfillment side of your business
- You need to have a process for each of these pillars and that process needs to be scalable on your time
- Meaning that you can easily fulfill a high volume of work with a small time investment

TRAINING ONLINE

Scalable Online Business Model

- Training is going to be done through online programming of workouts
- As your business grows, you will build “Master Plans” which serve as templated workouts that you can reuse for clients with similar goals
- Using these templates, you can customize each plan to meet the specific needs of the client

Scalable Online Business Model

- But by using these templates, you also save yourself time by not having to rebuild them from scratch
- It may take you 1 hour to build the initial template but for the rest of your career you can easily program clients in 15 minutes or less

Scalable Online Business Model

- Think about how scalable that is. You can sit down for 15 minutes and program 4 weeks worth of workouts
- This frees up more time to help more people

NUTRITION ONLINE

Scalable Online Business Model

- Nutrition is going to be delivered by programming macros, meal plans, or by providing resources
- Macros will be programmed with each check in, these are quick to adjust and may take 2-3 minutes with each client
- Meal Plans are similar to training programs, have templates that you can customize to each client

Scalable Online Business Model

- Resources for nutrition would include grocery shopping lists, eating out guides, food journals, portion guides
- Just like with training, these will take you about an hour to build, but once they're built you can reuse them to save time in the future

COACHING ONLINE

Scalable Online Business Model

- Coaching includes the actual accountability for the client to see results
- Whats nice about online training is that you dont keep clients accountability to a time slot at the gym, you keep them accountable to their results and habits

Scalable Online Business Model

- To do this you will have weekly check ins with your clients where you will be able to review their progress and make adjustments
- These check ins will be submitted via form/questionnaire, along with progress photos and data

Scalable Online Business Model

- What this does is it allows you to ensure that your clients are seeing results and making progress towards their goals week to week without having to be there in person
- You can reach up to 30 clients in 1 day using this model

Scalable Online Business Model

- Your clients will also have access to you for any questions or concerns that come up throughout the week. You should be available to your clients throughout normal work hours to offer support
- In the very beginning I recommend taking weekly zoom calls with your clients for a few reasons...

Scalable Online Business Model

- First you get direct feedback from your clients in real time and learn where your program can improve
- Second it points your attention to what you should focus on next to improve your business
- Third it keeps your clients accountable when youre first getting started

Scalable Online Business Model

- Once you reach 5+ clients I would switch your zoom calls to as needed only
- Zoom calls provide great feedback for improving your business but are not scalable

EDUCATION ONLINE

Scalable Online Business Model

- The education pillar is all about teaching your clients what they need to know for success
- This is where you can build guides, course videos, exercise libraries, etc.
- Instead of repeating yourself every week to every new client sayin the same thing over and over, you can build a resource one time and reuse it

Scalable Online Business Model

- This allows you to continue delivering life changing information to your clients, help them see results, but also scale your time so that your not caught repeating the same tasks over and over again

COMMUNITY ONLINE

Scalable Online Business Model

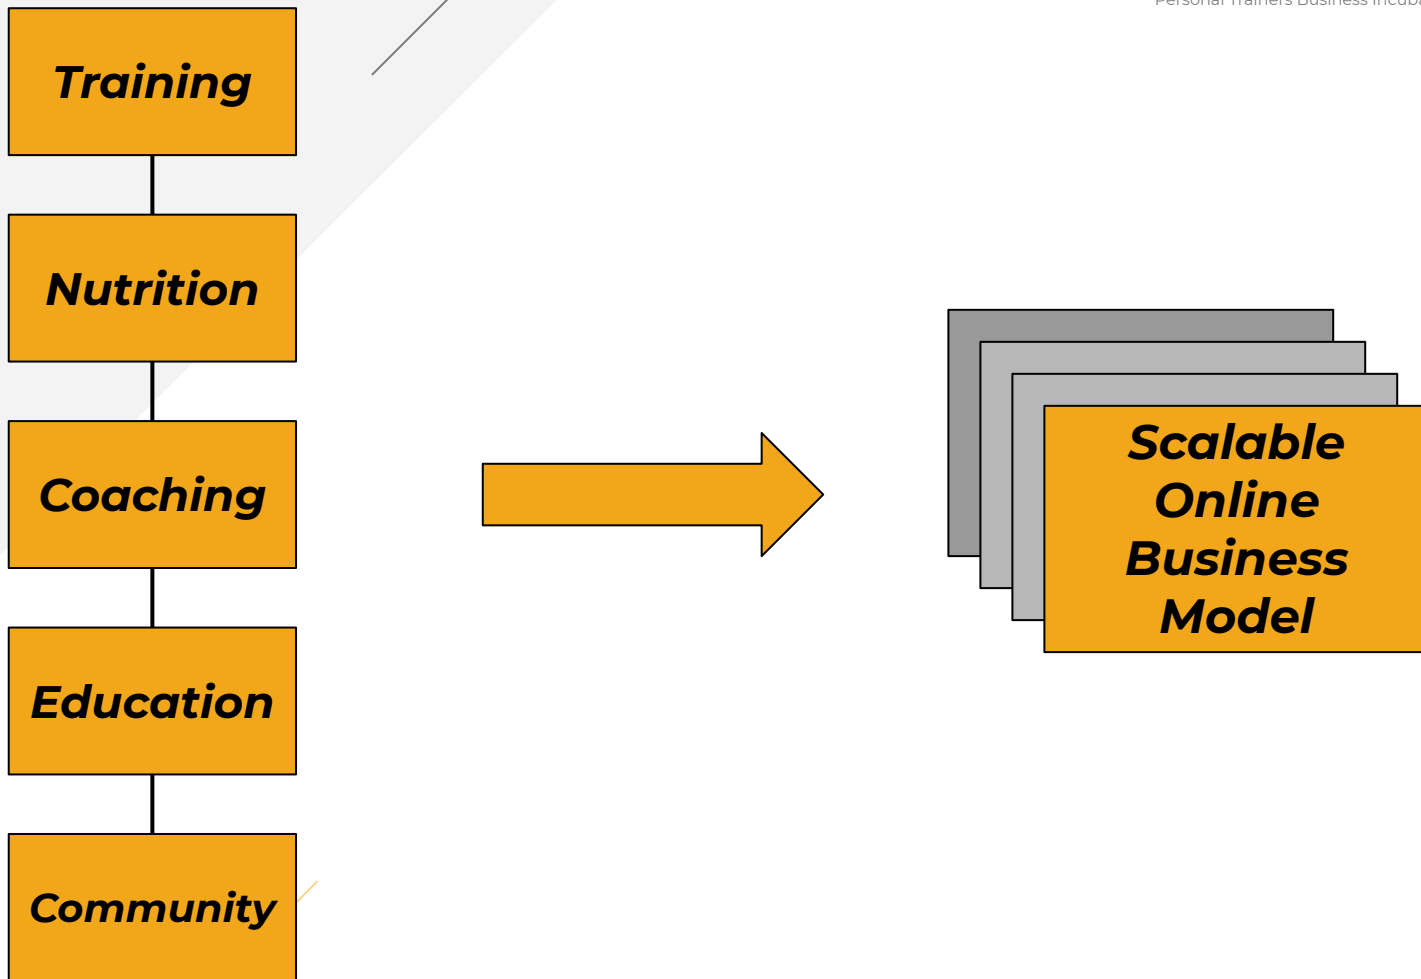

- The last pillar is community
- Building a community allows you to scale support as your clients begin to support each other
- It also allows you to communicate and lead your clients at scale
- Group chats and facebook groups are great to build a community

Scalable Online Business Model

- With a community you can post weekly prompts to hold your clients accountable, and host weekly calls to answer questions at scale
- With a weekly group call you can answer 15 peoples question in 1 hour
- The best part about community is when your clients lean on each other for support

Scalable Online Business Model

- Training: Master Programs
- Nutrition: Master Programs/Resources
- Coaching: Weekly Check Ins
- Education: Informational Resources
- Community: Facebook Groups/Group Chat

Scalable Online Business Model

- This business model relies heavily on resources that we call assets
- We call them assets because after the initial time invested it takes to create them, you can use them over and over and leverage your time off of this 1 investment

Scalable Online Business Model

- Building your coaching business will be a process of creating assets to leverage your time, getting feedback from your clients, creating new assets, and repeat until you have a scalable business
- With this model in place you should be able to deliver your clients results with 8-10 minutes of time invested per client each week

Scalable Online Business Model

- Now it will take some time to build these resources. It's not an overnight build
- But overtime this is the model we are working towards
- In the delivery module we will guide you on how to build resources

PRICE POINTS

Scalable Online Business Model

- Industry standard for online coaching is $200-500 per month
- $200 per month is on the low end
- $500 per month is on the high end
- Anything above $500/mo is considered high ticket in the fitness space

Scalable Online Business Model

- The sweet spot for the general online coaching space is $300-350/mo
- This is the price point we've found that fits most markets best
- Selling your program in 12 week packages means that you would charge $600-1500 with the sweet spot being $900-1,000 per client

Scalable Online Business Model

- It is important to know what your prices should be compared to industry standard but take this with a grain of salt
- When you are first getting started your prices may look different which we will cover in the lesson “Getting Your First Client”

Scalable Online Business Model

- Be sure to write down what you want to charge for your services, but be willing to negotiate when just starting out
