

BUILDING YOUR WEBSITE

BUILDING YOUR WEBSITE

- In this lesson we are going to walk through the steps to build your website
- When you are first getting started, you don't actually need a big expensive fancy website
- You can grow to 6-figures with something clean simple and effective

BUILDING YOUR WEBSITE

- What we find work well here are custom forms and application pages that allow your potential clients to get in contact with you
- Your website doesn't need to do any selling for you, that's what your content is for
- All your website needs to do is allow an easy way to get in contact

BUILDING YOUR WEBSITE

- What we want to do with an application page is reduce friction
- Friction is how many steps are in your process, more steps equals more friction
- Reducing friction removes the steps required for your prospect to become a lead

BUILDING YOUR WEBSITE

- All of our content online should do the selling, transformations, education, case studies etc. in order to send potential clients to this application page
- Everything should always point back to this application page.

BUILDING YOUR WEBSITE

- Just like the funnel, the more people we send to the page the more people push through and become leads
- Not everyone will complete the application, you will have many people start but only few finish, this is normal

BUILDING YOUR WEBSITE

- Another important note is the difference between an application vs assessment
- An application simply qualifies someone as a lead
- An assessment is an evaluation of someone's ability

BUILDING YOUR WEBSITE

- The application is not an assessment
- You do not need to figure out how many meals they're eating in a day, save the assessment for after they become paying clients
- Keep the application simple to qualify them for the next step

BUILDING YOUR WEBSITE

- The application should have as little questions as possible that qualifies the lead for the next step (less friction)
- What this website will do is allow your prospect to submit their information to you, where you would then reach out and follow the steps taught in the sales process module

BUILDING YOUR WEBSITE

- Let's walk you through exactly how you should build your website (most of it is pre-done for you)
