

CARDHOLDER MEMORANDUM — CALL MEMORIALIZATION

Written record of recorded supervisor call — American Express Dispute Resolution

Cardholder: William J. Marceau
Email: wmarceau@marceausolutions.com
Cases: D-93497818 (Card ending 1007) / D-93497819 (Card ending 1049)
Merchant: Propane Fitness Ltd, Newcastle, United Kingdom
Date of this memorandum: Thursday, May 28, 2026
Call placed to: American Express Disputes, 1-800-528-4800
Supervisor: Michael — Employee ID HE0973A (no direct extension provided)

PURPOSE OF THIS MEMORANDUM

During the call described below, the cardholder requested that American Express provide written confirmation of the supervisor's verbal commitments. The supervisor stated that American Express has no mechanism to provide proactive written confirmation of the points discussed. Accordingly, the cardholder is creating this written record and uploading it to both case files via the AmEx Dispute Center, so that the substance of the call — verbally confirmed by the supervisor on a recorded line — becomes part of the permanent case record.

FACTS VERBALLY CONFIRMED BY SUPERVISOR ON RECORDED CALL

At the close of the call, the cardholder read each of the following points back to Supervisor Michael (Employee ID HE0973A) and obtained explicit verbal confirmation that each statement accurately reflects what was discussed:

1. Today's date is Thursday, May 28, 2026.
2. The cardholder is speaking with Supervisor Michael, Employee ID HE0973A.
3. The back-end disputes team has been informed that the disputed amount on cases D-93497818 and D-93497819 is $8,741.76 USD, not $3,150 USD, consistent with the cardholder's April 7, 2026 resubmission, and that this information is in the cardholder's favor.
4. The back-end disputes team is actively reviewing the foreign-exchange conversion shortfall of approximately $2,441.76.
5. A decision is expected within 5 to 7 business days, no later than Tuesday, June 9, 2026.
6. No direct extension was available for the supervisor. Follow-up should reference Employee ID HE0973A together with the two case numbers above.

THE UNDERLYING ISSUE BEING REVIEWED — FX CONVERSION SHORTFALL

For the avoidance of doubt regarding the substance of the dispute now under back-end review, the cardholder restates the arithmetic that the supervisor and prior representatives have acknowledged is straightforward:

	Per Card (each)	Total (both cards)
Original transaction (£)	£3,150.00	£6,300.00
FX rate applied at charge (Mar 2, 2026)	$1.3511 / £	$1.3511 / £

USD posted to statement	$4,255.97	$8,511.94
Foreign transaction fees	$114.91	$229.82
TOTAL CHARGED TO ACCOUNT (USD)	$4,370.88	$8,741.76
AmEx refund issued (Apr 9, 2026)	$3,150.00	$6,300.00
Implied FX rate on refund	$1.00 / £	$1.00 / £
SHORTFALL OWED	$1,220.88	$2,441.76

American Express's Notice of Dispute Information PDFs for both cases (in AmEx's own words) describe the chargeback as £3,150.00 GBP per case. The refund issued was $3,150.00 USD per case — an implied exchange rate of $1.00 per pound, a parity rate which has not existed in modern foreign-exchange history. The original transactions were posted to the cardholder's USD account at $1.3511 per pound, which is the rate at which the refund must also be computed in order to restore the cardholder's account to the position it would have been in absent the disputed charges. The shortfall, including the foreign-transaction fees that should not have been charged on a refunded transaction, is $2,441.76 USD.

INDEPENDENT WRITTEN RECORD

Because American Express stated it could not provide its own written confirmation, the cardholder is preserving the following independent record of the call:

1. This memorandum, uploaded to both case files (D-93497818 and D-93497819) via the AmEx Dispute Center on May 28, 2026.
2. A copy of this memorandum emailed to the cardholder's own email address (wmarceau@marceausolutions.com) on the same date, providing a timestamped record independent of American Express systems.
3. The cardholder's contemporaneous handwritten notes from the call, retained.
4. The call itself, which the supervisor confirmed was recorded on the American Express side.

CARDHOLDER EXPECTATIONS AND NEXT STEPS

Based on the verbal commitments memorialized above, the cardholder expects American Express to post the corrective credit of approximately $2,441.76 — or to provide a written denial citing the specific rule under which the corrective credit is being declined — no later than Tuesday, June 9, 2026. If neither has been received by that date, the cardholder intends to file a complaint with the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) at consumerfinance.gov/complaint, attaching this memorandum, the April 7, 2026 resubmission, the AmEx Notice of Dispute Information PDFs, and all other supporting documentation already in the case file.

This memorandum is submitted in good faith for the sole purpose of creating a written record of verbal commitments made on a recorded line during today's call. Nothing in this memorandum is intended to alter the scope of the underlying chargebacks, which remain those described in the cardholder's April 7, 2026 resubmission previously submitted to American Express.

Respectfully submitted,

William J. Marceau
